RAID MASSACRES IN CANTON CONTINUE

Japanese Bomb Central Area For Half An Hour

FRENCH FRONTIER VILLAGE BOMBED

Toulouse, To-day.
Nine unidentified grey-coloured planes bombed a French Pyrenees frontier village near Ax-les-Thermes in the early hours of yesterday.

Considerable damage was caused but there were no casualties.

SURVEY FLIGHT FOR NEW AIR SERVICE TO HONG KONG

The new Air France service connecting Hong Kong with Hanoi, foreshadowed in the "Sunday Herald" recently, has been brought a step nearer to realisation.

As a preliminary to starting the new service, high Air France officials are now carrying out a survey flight in a three-engined Fokker.

The officials, one of the managers of Air France and the Civil Aviation Superintendant of French Indo-China, are now at Fort Bayard, having arrived from Hanoi.

The aerodrome at Fort Bayard is being closed to traffic for two months, for large-scale improvements, and a temporary landing ground, which will be used by Imperial Airways, has been established at an aerodrome 40 kilometres south of Fort Bayard.

The new Air France service to Hong Kong, on which big Dewoitine machines will be used, is expected to come into operation at the end of July.

Heavy Deathroll Feared: Attack Made At Early Hour

Canton, 8.30 a.m., To-day.

The air raid alarm sounded at 8.10 this morning and at 8.30 Japanese planes appeared over the city.

Hitherto no bombs have been dropped, and the machines are presumably heading for the railways.

There is no panic in the city but the gates of Shameen have been closed as a precaution, only those with special permits being allowed to enter.

Fragments of anti-aircraft shells were picked up along the Shameen waterfront yesterday but no casualties in the Concession were reported.—Reuter.

CITY BOMBED

Canton, 10.20 a.m., To-day.
A further heavy toll is feared to have been taken by Japanese planes this morning in the course of a short raid over the city.

The raiders again concentrated on the Central Park district, where the Government offices are situated, and on the terminus of the railway to Kowloon.

Both these areas were subjected to fairly heavy bombing, and a fire is now raging in the vicinity of the Station.

The raiders appeared over the city at 8.50 and left at 9.05, but in this short course of time, seem to have done plenty of damage.

WHAMPOA ATTACKED

At 10.10 the air raid alarm sounded for the second time, but so far no planes have appeared.

Chinese anti-aircraft fire this morning was sparse and intermittent.

Another batch of raiders bombed the Whampoa Forts, down river, at 9.15, just as the steamer to Hong Kong was passing. — Reuter.

JAPANESE TRANSPORT SUNK

Shanghai, To-day.

Incoming foreign vessels report sighting a Japanese transport, the "Mamiya," a vessel of between 8,000 and 10,000 tons, partially submerged after going aground on Amherst Rock, near the mouth of the Yangtse.

It was stated later that the vessel, which is believed to have been on the way to Shanghai, was sunk after being completely abandoned, without casualties. Two Japanese destroyers are standing by.

An unconfirmed report states that another Japanese transport, the "Ondo" (6,000 tons) is believed to be in distress off the Saddle Islands. She is en route to Shanghai from Japan.—Reuter.

They'll Love Your Cooking!

BANANA FRITTERS

Put $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. of flour in a basin, add gradually one gill of water, then add one tablespoonful of melted butter, and beat well. Then stir in lightly two whisked whites of eggs.

Cut the bananas lengthways, then across, into four pieces, dip them in the batter, and fry them in deep fat.

Put into a pan two tablespoonfuls of apricot jam, melt it with a squeeze of lemon juice.

Serve the fritters piled up on a dish, sprinkle with sugar, and pour the apricot syrup round them.

MOCK WHITEBAIT

Take four fillets of sole, cut them into lengths about the size and width of your finger. Coat them with egg and breadcrumbs, fry in deep fat, pile up on a dish, sprinkle with parsley, and serve melted butter separately.

CASSEROLE OF LIVER

1 lb. of calves' liver, cut in slices $\frac{1}{2}$ in. thick, coat with flour, fry in a little butter till tender, take out, and put aside to keep warm.

Pour away some of the butter, add to the rest one teaspoonful of chopped onion and six sliced mushrooms. Season, cook for a few minutes.

Add a very little flour, pour on quarter-pint of stock, return the liver to the pan, turn the whole into a casserole dish, simmer in the oven for five minutes, and serve with little squares of fried bread.

BROWN BREAD CREAM

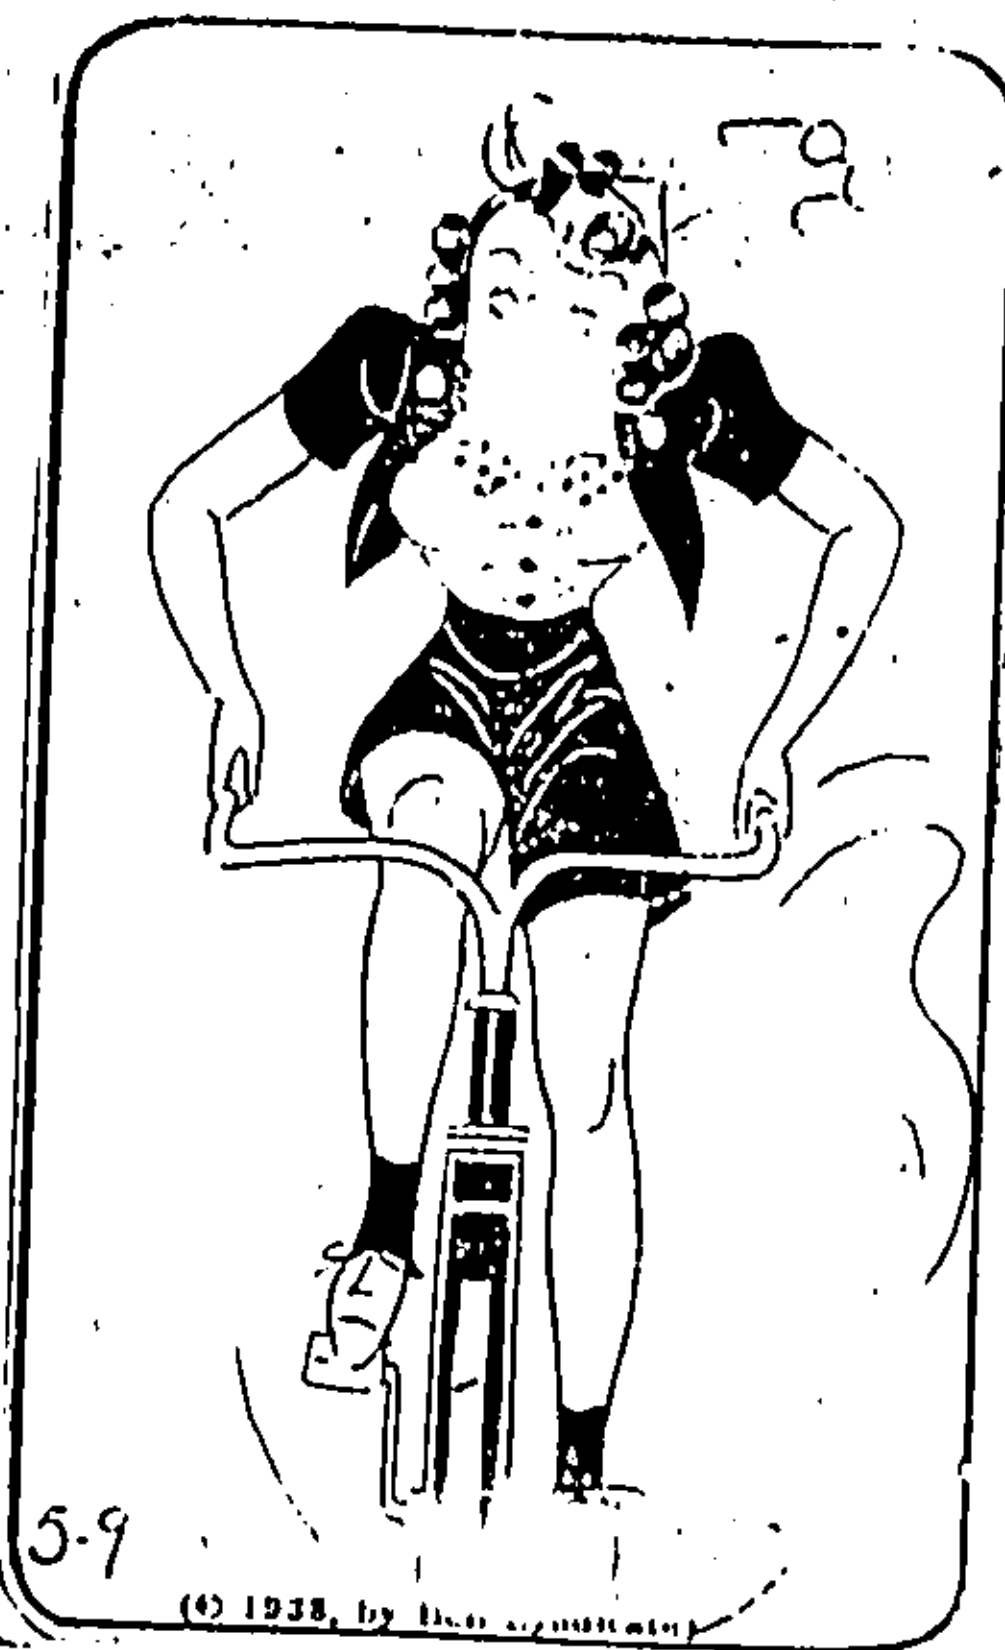

Take four large handfuls of brown breadcrumbs, put them on a tin in the oven, and bake till crisp and brown, turning them occasionally. Take out, let them cool.

Take one glass for each person (a large wine glass is best), and put in one tablespoonful of breadcrumbs, then a spoonful of apple puree (sliced apple cooked with sugar and a little water, and rubbed through a sieve). Then a spoonful of raspberry jam, lastly a spoonful of whipped cream. Continue with these layers till the glasses are full, ending with cream.

PORK CHOPS MARECHALE

Grill the chops in a frying pan, using as little fat as possible. Then fry one chopped onion and one chopped carrot in a saucepan with 2oz.

Witty Kitty

You no longer are of the younger generation if you believe the rosy side of life you see is due to the pigment the oculist has put into your lenses.

butter. Let this brown, and $1\frac{1}{2}$ oz. flour and half-pint of water.

Let this reduce on the fire for half an hour, adding some brown colouring if necessary. When very thick, take off, strain, and dilute the sauce with the juice of one orange and half a lemon.

Dish up the chops on a puree of spinach, decorate them with alternate slices of orange and lemon, and pour the sauce round the dish.

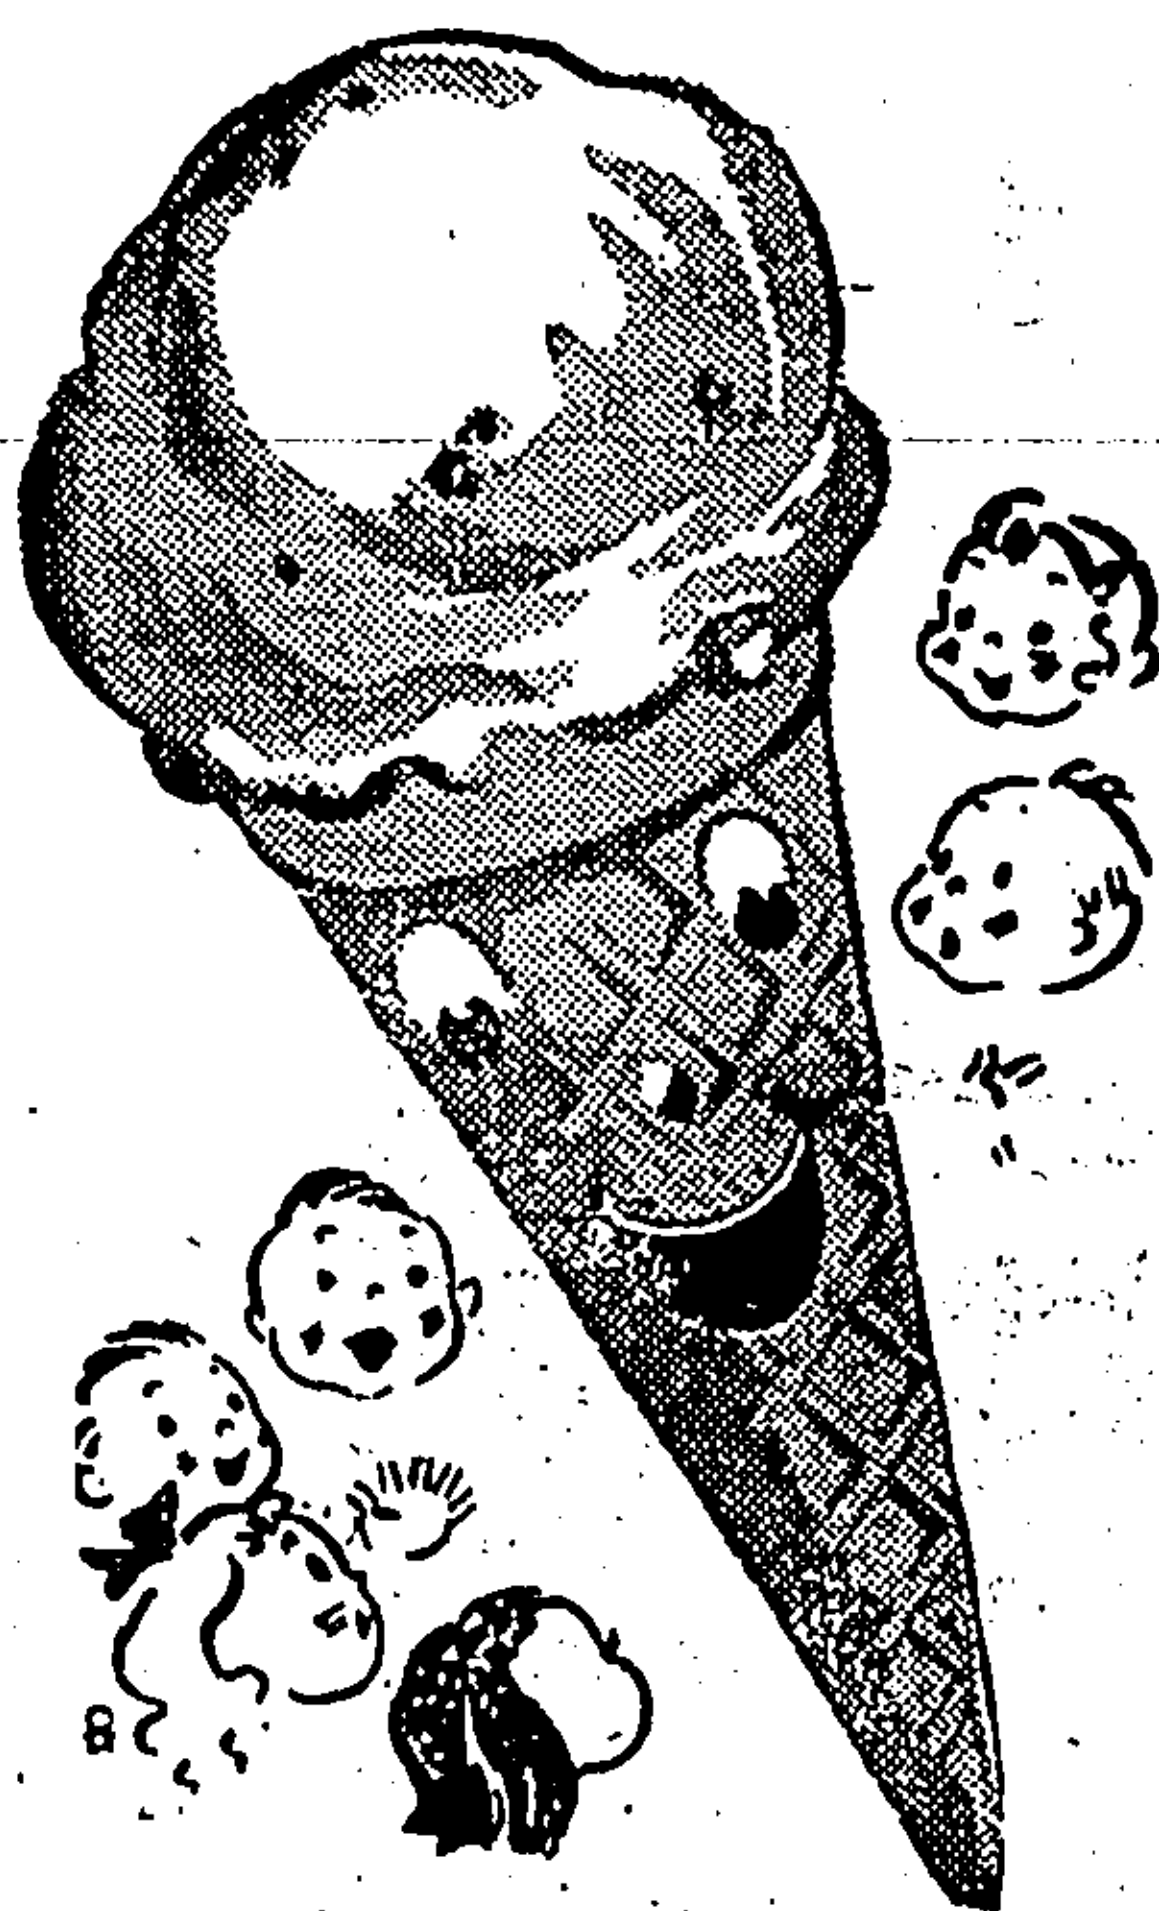

APPLES EN SURPRISE

Take one apple per person, peel and core, cook very carefully in a little water and sugar till soft. Take out, put on a fireproof dish.

Melt 2oz. chocolate with a nut of butter and a large spoonful of water, fill the centres of the apples with this.

Cover with a meringue of two egg whites stiffly whipped, adding 4oz. castor sugar, coat apples with this, dust with grated chocolate, and bake for fifteen minutes in a slow oven.

Saturday's Bride Keeps To Tradition

St. John's Cathedral on Saturday was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when Miss Eileen Lorna Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gordon Short of Avonmouth, Gloucestershire, became the bride of Lieutenant Roland Ingleby Mackenzie, Seaforth Highlanders, and son of the late Mr. R. Mackenzie, and Mrs. Mackenzie of Kearsney, Dover.

The ceremony which took place at 3.30 p.m. was performed by the Reverend J. L. Wilson.

TRADITIONAL GOWN

Gowned in the traditional dress of white satin, the bride presented a very lovely picture as she walked up the aisle on the arm of Dr. I. Newton, who gave her away. The gown was a simple, figure-fitting, with uplift-gathered bodice, long wide sleeves and sweeping train. Her headdress was a Juliette cap of French pearls, to which was attached a veil of white tulle, gathered at the back and held to the cap by a semi-circle of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white Gardenias.

Attending the bride were the Misses Joan Smalley and Carine Newton, identically dressed in flame coloured chiffon, with sun-ray pleated bodice, and panels of pleats running the length of the front and back of the skirt. Flowers of the same material fashioned the bandeaux which crowned their heads and they carried bouquets of gold gladioli.

REGIMENTAL UNIFORM

The bridegroom wore the uniform of a Lieutenant of the Seaforth Highlanders, and was attended by Lieutenant-Commander A. R. M. Baines as best-man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Roof Garden of the Hong Kong Hotel, and the many guests who attended were received by Mrs. I. Newton and Miss Ona Buckley.

The couple will spend their honeymoon at the Repulse Bay Hotel before leaving for Shanghai to make their home.

Among the many friends invited to the wedding were:—Major and Mrs. G. Rawstorne, Major and Mrs. G. Murray, Captain and Mrs. Neil, Captain and Mrs. Innis, Captain R. Bower, Commander R. A. B. Edwards and Mrs. Edwards, Lieutenant J. Loveday, R.N., Lt. R. Currie, R.N., Mr. R. C. Oliver, R.N., Mr. W. A. Jones, R.N., Mr. Justice Lindsell and Mrs. Lindsell, Dr. and Mrs. A. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. H. Donovan, Mr. and Mrs. F. Fornes, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Boskitt, the Misses E. and S. Boskitt, the Reverend Mrs. J. L. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Stopani-Thomson, Professor and Mrs. Middleton-Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Smith, Mrs. H. R. Forsythe, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. S. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. A. Drummond, Miss Judith Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Butcher, Miss Hope Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. R. Mitchell, Miss Jean Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Potter, Miss Peggy Humphreys, Mr. David Humphreys, Miss Joan Armstrong, Miss Kathleen Simmons, Miss Sheila Gumbleton, and many others.

Good Health And Beautiful Hair

Problem Of Tinting

It seems a pity that there is practically no co-operation between the people who take care of our health and those who take care of our beauty. What a wonderful thing it would be for women if these two professions could learn to take an intelligent interest in each other.

The man of medicine is inclined to blame civilisation for all our ills. The great dentists of the world tell us that our civilised habits are responsible for dental decay and pyorrhea. If we killed our prey and ate it raw and lived out in the fields, they say we should never have any trouble with our teeth.

Chiropodists blame civilisation for the trouble we have with our feet, and skin specialists, when dealing with premature alopecia (baldness), are apt to remark that this is the result of civilised life.

Surely these wise men would be showing their wisdom if, instead of blaming civilisation so freely, they would teach us that our infirmities are the result of misusing the benefits of a civilised life.

CAUSES OF BALDNESS

Consider the question of hair. We have hairdressers all over the country who are experts at permanent waving, setting and dressing the hair. They give shampoos, massage, friction, brushings and generally take care of the good looks of the hair. Then there are the skin specialists, who diagnose and treat baldness in its several forms. They know how it is caused, they know that prevention is much easier than the cure; but by the time the patient arrives in their consulting room it is too late for prevention. If only hairdressers would teach their clients how to keep their hair and scalp healthy, a lot of trouble and expense and heart-burning would be saved. The art of the hairdresser is wasted if the hair waved and set is in a bad condition.

The hair and scalp cannot be healthy if there is anything which interferes with the circulation of blood in the scalp, the nutrition of the hair, and the proper action of the tiny glands.

Nothing is worse for the hair and scalp than pressure and tight or heavy hats, as this interferes with the circulation. The dust and dirt of city atmosphere blocks up the pores and causes endless trouble unless the hair is shampooed very frequently with a non-irritating shampoo. The advantage of brushing is that it both cleans the hair and scalp and stimulates the circulation of the blood in the scalp. The insides of your hats should be brushed every day. This precaution would go a long way towards preventing dandruff and baldness.

It is useless to rub in even the most efficient hair tonic if the blood is being poisoned from a septic focus in the teeth or throat. If there is sepsis in either the mouth or the throat, the food eaten will be poisoned slightly and various parts of the body affected through the blood stream. So if your hair shows signs of losing its health, becoming abnormally thin, or a bald patch appears, visit your dentist. If there is nothing wrong here, ask your doctor to examine your throat, and if this is healthy, make sure that your eyes are not causing the trouble.

Rheumatism, nerve diseases, influenza and disturbances of the ductless gland all cause baldness. Perhaps the most common cause of all is dandruff.

In dealing with the problem of hair tints hairdressers do no make it sufficiently clear to their clients the difference between one method of tinting and another. If a woman has, for some reason or another, to tint her hair, she should know a few elemental facts about hair tints.

HOME TREATMENTS

First, if her hair has been treated with one tint, it cannot be tinted satisfactorily at home with another until the first has grown out, and if one tint has been used and the hair is to be tinted at the hairdressers, the hairdressers should always be informed of the name of any previous application used.

blonde, golden blonde and light blonde.

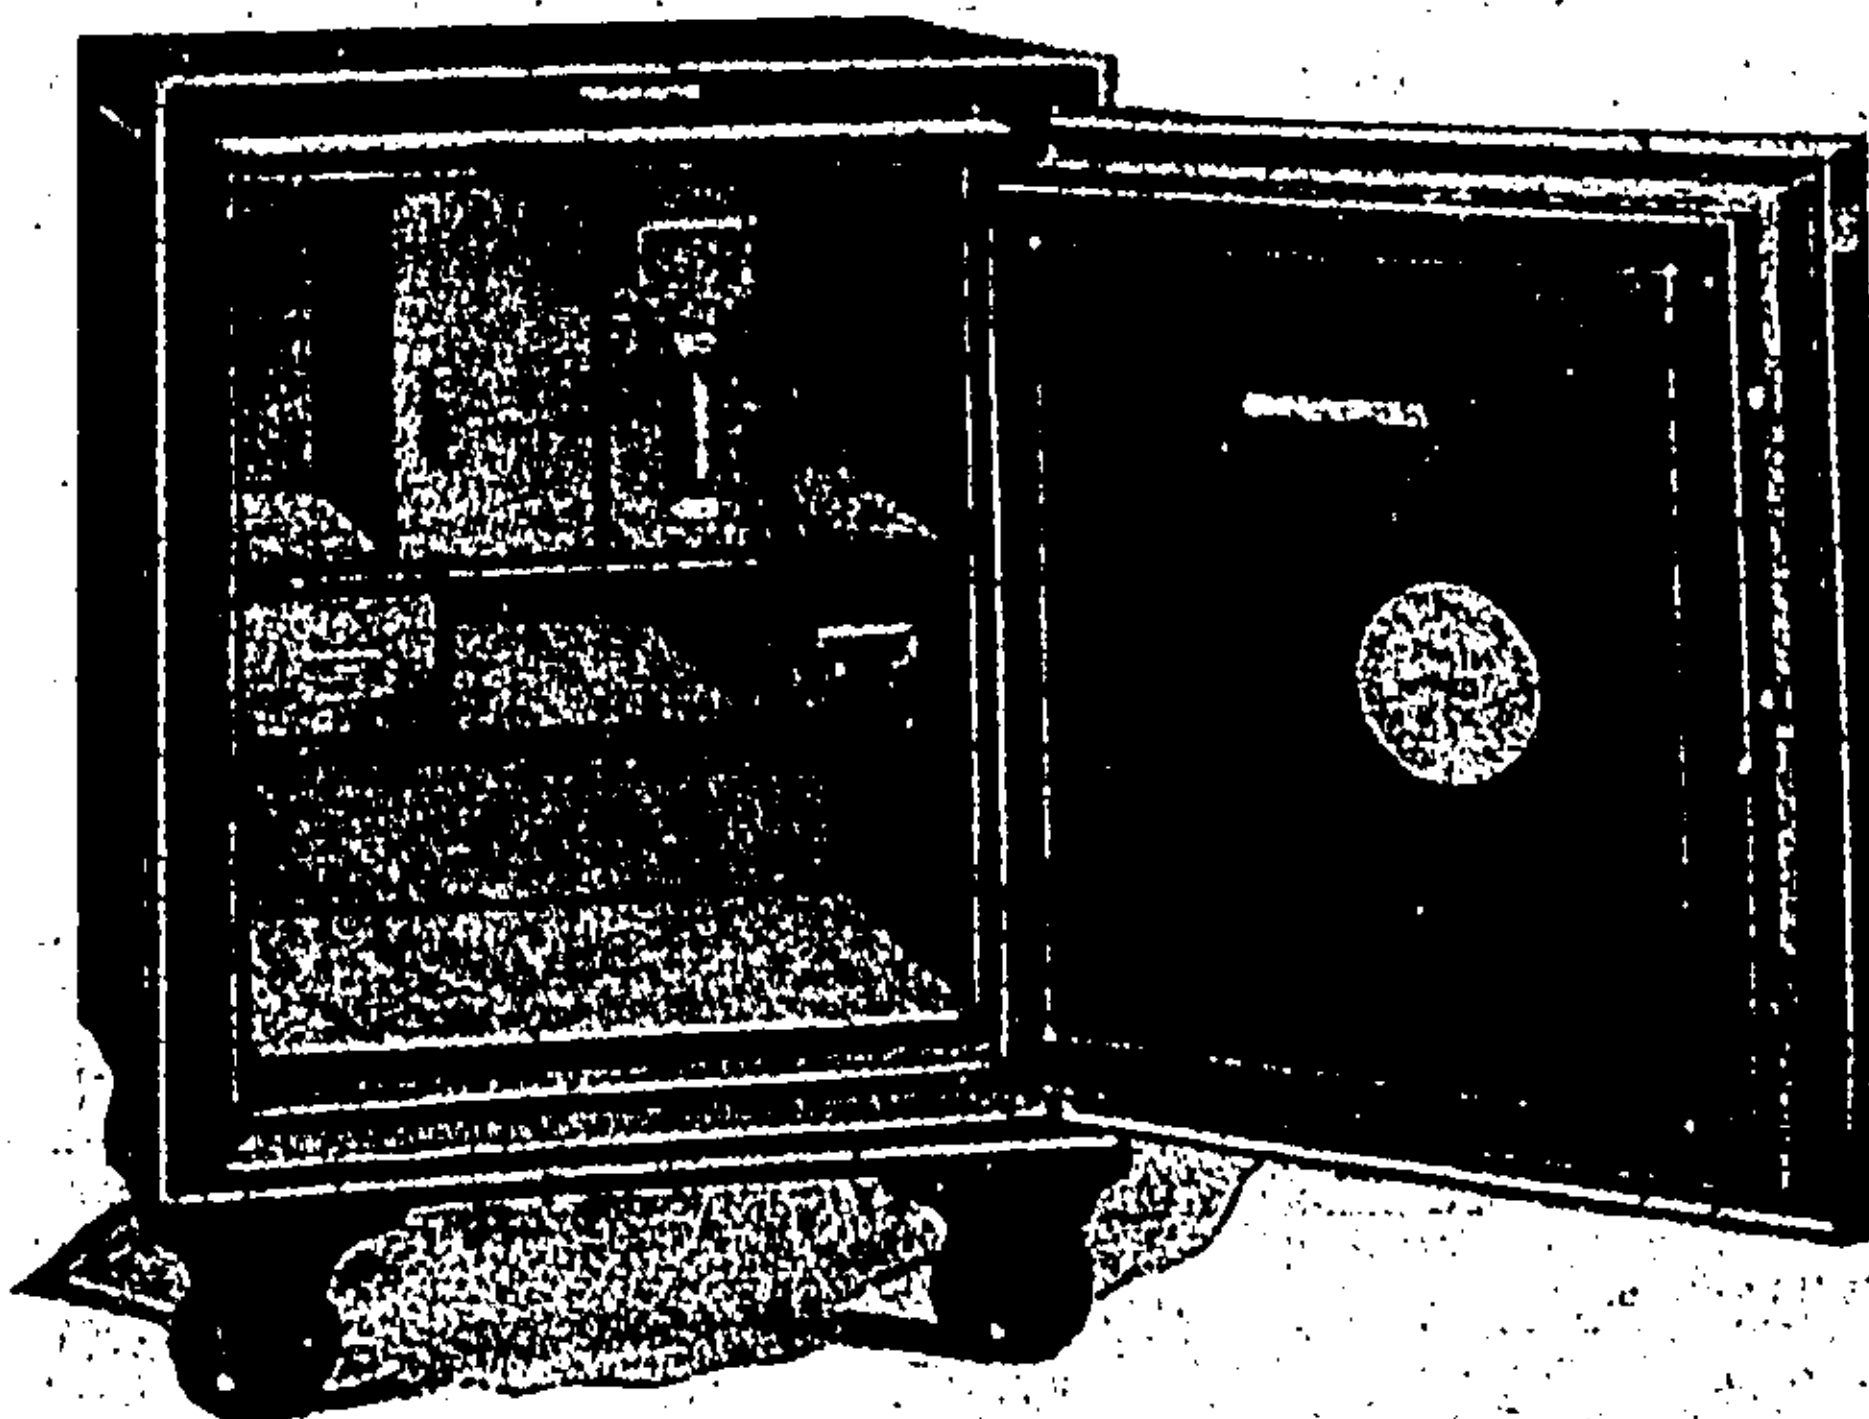

The advantage of this tint is that it takes a good permanent wave, but the safety test, which is given with the directions, must be applied first.

For home use you can get Japanese henna, and Egyptian henna. The various manufacturers of famous hair tints sell their preparations for home use. One make is supplied in the following shades: Deep black, black, darkest brown, dark brown, dark warm brown, brown, light brown, light warm brown, light ash brown, dark auburn, auburn, light golden brown, dark ash blonde, ash blonde, reddish blonde,

One of the newest hair tints is made to work in conjunction with a very special kind of peroxide, which can be used on hair which has been tinted with compound henna previously, before this other tint is applied. The henna tints have the advantage of being fairly harmless and the lighter shades can, in most cases, be waved successfully.

"SECRET SIX" VANISH WHILE SPYING IN SPAIN FOR BRITAIN

Six brave men have disappeared. . . .

The police have not been informed. No broadcast messages have been made appealing for help. No description of these men has been circulated. For the six men who have vanished since the beginning of the year are all members of the British Secret Service.

They have disappeared in Spain, where they have gathered valuable military information.

You might think a search should be started.

THE INFECTION OF DICTATORSHIP

"Passing Distemper"

Lord Allen of Hurtwood, speaking at the annual dinner of the Aldersgate Ward Club in London, declared that dictatorship was fifty years behind the times. It resorted to compulsion in an attempt to catch up with the achievements of free men carried through half a century ago.

Dictatorship would prove to be a passing distemper. It only appeared in countries that were struggling back to self-respect from humiliation in war, or out of a complete breakdown in the social fabric. Democracy was indestructible, and would prove permanently well founded in the intelligence and spiritual outlook of contemporary civilisation.

Britain should remember that she had been partly to blame for letting this infection of dictatorship spread. We ought, therefore, frankly to admit the mistakes we had made, and take active steps to restore broken friendships and to heal the enmities left over from the war. If we would do this, we could lower the tension in Europe and release the longing for peace and humane conduct which the vast majority of ordinary men and women felt in every country.

Lord Allen said that to-day London held the keys of finance and economic power in the world, and if they would use that prestige they could rally Europe back to democracy. It was all nonsense to say that democratic institutions were degenerate and unable to meet the complex tasks of modern government.

Britain to-day was the envy of the world, and it was high time that she advertised her political wares with more energy. The eyes of millions of people in every land were turned to Britain and to its great city of London. They rejoiced in our stability and respected our love of mercy and compassionate dealing between man and man. They hoped we should not betray our great traditions. Every merchant and financier in the City of London could be an ambassador of peace, but he begged them not to keep silent in the presence of racial persecution or inhuman conduct.

But the law of M.I.5, British espionage headquarters, is that a Secret Service man ceases to be a private citizen, forfeits rights of nationality—and becomes a cipher.

The secret six, before they vanished, sent in priceless information to the War Office.

Their acute observation of the progress of the Spanish War has saved expenditure on actual experiments in England.

One of the discoveries they made was a fool-proof method of stopping the advance of a modern tank.

Through a dozen secret channels they smuggled into Britain plans of new Russian, German and Italian guns, aeroplanes and tanks.

It is estimated that secret service work in Spain and China saves Britain £2,000,000 a year.

That money would otherwise be spent in expensive missions to foreign munition works, in costly experiments.

Our Secret Service this year will cost £450,000—a jump of $100,000 above last year.

But the money is well spent. All too often it is the price of brave men's lives.

What has happened to the missing men?

Prison? The execution squad?

Nobody will ever know.

Salute the secret six!

It's the only memorial they'll ever get.

SULTAN NOT TO MARRY DANCER

The fabulously wealthy Sultan of Johore, ruler of the tiny independent Malay state which adjoins Singapore, chose a Manila newsmen in preference to Singapore newsmen to issue a denial of rumours he would soon marry blond Lydia Cicely Hill, 23-year-old English dancer.

Although he continued his silence toward Singapore press correspondents, the Sultan cabled Richard C. Wilson, Philippines manager of the United Press, asking him to issue a denial of the rumour. Wilson became acquainted with the Sultan of Johore during a recent trip to Malaya.

"There is no truth in any rumour of my engagement," the handsome 66-year-old ruler of Johore said in his cable to Wilson.

Miss Hill has been a guest at the sultan's elaborate estate at Johore Bahru during the past week. She is an old friend of the Sultan, having met him in London three years ago.

The tiny state of Johore, which provides the Sultan an income of more than P1,000,000 annually, lacks a Sultana at the present time. The Sultan seven weeks ago divorced his white wife, the former Mrs. Helen Wilson, a Scotswoman, by the Mohammedan rite of repeating the chant "Talak" (I divorce thee) four times in the presence of a witness.

GERMAN MOBILISATION ACCUSATION

Paris, Yesterday.

"Le Petit Parisien," which, like most other Paris newspapers, reported M. George Bonnet, the French Foreign Minister, as having told the Foreign Affairs Committee of the French Chamber that Germany had partially mobilised several divisions between May 20 and 23, has now denied the report.

The statement, it is stated, crept into the paper as result of an error in reporting.

The correction is regarded here as due in the main to the reaction of German opinion to the original report, described in Berlin as an "outrageous attempt at poisoning international relations."

Diplomatic circles here were entirely non-plussed by the report in question, and everybody was asking whether M. Bonnet had really made a remark of this sort.

It is presumed that the false re-

By twenty-eight votes the American delegate, Mr. Wynant, was to-day unanimously elected Director of the International Labour Organisation in place of Mr. Harold Butler, who resigned recently.

At the same time, the Irish delegate, Mr. Phelan, was elected Deputy President, a post which had been in abeyance for some years.

It is stated here that the election of Mr. Wynant is in accordance with the wishes of President Roosevelt, but it is also stressed that this election must not be interpreted as indication of any change of attitude of the United States towards the League of Nations.—Trans-Ocean.

port on this matter appearing in the French press was the subject of a conversation which Count Welczek, the German Ambassador, had with M. Bonnet yesterday.—Trans-Ocean.

KAIFENG IN DANGER OF COMING UNDER ARTILLERY FIRE

Shanghai, Yesterday.

Kaifeng, the largest town of the province of Honan with a population of about 250,000, is now in serious danger of coming under the fire of Japanese artillery and suffering all horrors of the embittered Sino-Japanese war like so many Chinese towns have done before it.

To-night, it was stated in Japanese quarters that two strong Japanese detachments are approaching Kaifeng with great rapidity.

One detachment is already at Chenliu, 20 kms. southwest of Kaifeng. The attack on Chenliu, which, however, the Japanese admit, is still in the hands of the Chinese, came as a complete surprise.

Another Japanese detachment is marching on Lanfeng along the Lunghai Railway and is following up those Chinese falling back on Chenliu.

AIR ARM ACTIVE

The Japanese air arm is stated to be extraordinarily active and Japanese state that they bombed Chinese troops concentrated south of Kaifeng.

This description by the Japanese of the progress of the battle to decide the possession of the Pinghan Railway, appears to be substantially correct as the reports from Hankow do not differ therefrom very greatly. On account of the impaired situation on the Lunghai Railway, Hankow is full of rumours.

KAIFENG CONCENTRATION

As far as particulars can be ascertained in Hankow, the fighting in the region of the Lunghai Railway now seems to be concentrated on the town of Kaifeng where Chinese troops are massed, having been withdrawn from the east to defend Kaifeng.

According to Chinese reports from the front, the Japanese columns, about 3½ divisions strong, have advanced southwards to the main line from Lanfeng to Hwaiyuan.

LUYI TAKEN

The Japanese report of the capture of Luyi, farther to the south and in the east of the province of Honan, is confirmed by the Chinese.

The present front line begins at Kaifeng and ends in the south at Fukou and Chowkiakow which, as a highroad junction, is of great strategic importance. This front line from north to south runs parallel to the Pinghan Railway for a distance of about 60 kms.—Trans-Ocean.

NEAR KAIFENG

Chengchow, To-day.

A belated reported received here late last night states that threatening situation developed at Lanfeng on the morning of June 3 when a detachment of Japanese forces in a westward drive along the Lunghai Railway arrived at Hsinglungtsi, a small village west of Lanfeng.

To the southwest of Kaifeng, small units of Japanese forces have appeared at Yuehtien, on June 4.—Central News.

Japanese Claim Fall Of Kaifeng To Be Imminent

Shanghai, To-day.

Japanese quarters here claim that the fall of Kaifeng, capital of the province of Honan, is imminent.

The Japanese forces which are advancing on Kaifeng from the east along the Lunghai Railway are now only 16 kilometres from the city.

Since other Japanese units which are advancing on the city from the south-east have closed all roads running southwards from Kaifeng, the main body of Chinese forces is retiring in a western direction towards Chengchow, junction of the Lunghai and Peiping-Hankow Railways.

JAP. LANDING CRAFT SUNK BY GUNFIRE

Kinhwa, To-day.

More than a dozen Japanese steam launches, loaded with large numbers of men, were hit and sunk by Chinese shells on the Chientang River when the enemy made an abortive landing attempt in the vicinity of Pingyao, fifteen kilometres north of Yuhang.

Chinese defenders kept up a constant barrage of artillery and machine-gun fire on the Japanese vessels, which replied with ineffective light guns. When the invaders were finally driven back to the eastern bank, at least a dozen boats had capsized.—Central News.

FUNERAL OF CHINA AIR VICTIMS

Hankow, To-day.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek personally attended the memorial service held here yesterday for four Chinese airmen who were killed during recent air battles with Japanese raiders at different places.

The service, which was held in the local Chamber of Commerce, was also attended by General Chien Tachun, Chief Aide-de-Camp of the Generalissimo.

The four airmen who lost their lives were Sub-Squadron Leaders Chang Shou-hsien and Yang Chen-hsien, Pilot Chen Hwai-min and Pilot King Chang-sze. Sub-Squadron Leader Chang Shou-hsien was killed when his plane

Traffic on railway line from Hankow to Chengchow is still being maintained, but the civilian authorities have already begun to evacuate the city.

Other messages report that Chinese forces in the region south of Kweichow are retiring towards Hankow on a broad front.

According to Chinese reports, Chinese troops have been ordered to hold the line Hankow-Chengchow at any price.

It is expected therefore that a violent battle will develop in this sector during the next few days.

HANKOW MEASURES

Certain measures taken by the Chinese civilian authorities in Hankow appear to indicate that systematic evacuation of Hankow is part of the general strategic plan drawn up by the Chinese command for operations of the near future.—Trans-Ocean.

RECAPTURE KWANGPING

Hankow, To-day.

Kwangping, north of Taming, in south Hopei, has been recaptured, a military report just received states.

Violent fighting is in progress on the Linfen-Kuwo sector in south Shansi, where the Chinese are battling against a Japanese attempt to break through the Chinese cordon.

The Japanese, numbering about 1,000 men, including cavalry and artillery units, launched attacks at four points in an attempt to force a way out of the Chinese ring.

Three attacks were beaten back with heavy losses. The fourth column, forming the main body of the Japanese forces, is still hotly engaged.—Central News.

TWO RAIDS ON BARCELONA BY INSURGENTS

Barcelona, To-day.

The insurgent air force attacked Barcelona twice on Saturday, dropping numerous bombs.

First raid took place in the early morning, and a second group of raiders, which consisted of a squadron of seven planes, appeared over the city shortly after one o'clock.

The planes flew at an extremely high altitude and cruised over the city for some time.

It is declared that the bombardment caused considerable material damage.

Information regarding the number of victims claimed by the bombardment is not available so far, however.

The authorities believe that General Franco will shortly launch a new large-scale offensive since messages from the front between Teruel and the coast report that enemy pressure on the loyalists is becoming stronger and stronger.—Trans-Ocean.

RETREAT FROM FENGTAI AND SHOUHSIEN

Liuan, To-day.

After exacting a heavy toll of the Japanese troops advancing from Mengcheng, Chinese forces have abandoned Fengtai and Shouhsien, in west Anhwei, approximately seventy kilometres southwest of Pengpu.

Part of the Japanese force, continuing their drive towards the west, are now engaged in heavy fighting with the Chinese in the vicinity of Chengyangkwan, twenty kilometres west of Shouhsien.

Following a series of exhausting battles in its vicinity, a general lull has descended on Hofei.

At Yungchao, the Japanese have withdrawn to Tungchongchai, with only a small force manning the blockhouses there.

Another unit which launched a heavy assault on Hsukiaokuai has also retreated in the direction of Yungchao.—Central News.

"TIMES" REPORT DENIED

Allegations Of Soviet Influence In China

Suspicious Of Origin

Hankow, To-day.

The spokesman of the Chinese Foreign Ministry declared yesterday that the allegation of the London "Times" that "Soviet Russian influence in China has greatly increased," is simply "absurd."

"The Times," it will be recalled, published a lengthy report which asserted that the president of the Chinese Executive Yuan, Dr. Sun Fo, conducted negotiations for a new non-aggression pact, with the Soviet Russian Commissariat during his recent second visit to Moscow,

That Soviet Russian agents had received permission for a Communist propaganda campaign in China under the motto "victory to Communism," and

That a large number of Soviet Russian volunteers who were trained in Outer Mongolia have been enlisted in the ranks of the 8th Chinese Army.

The Chinese Government spokesman pointed out that the Non-Agression Pact concluded by China and the Soviet Union on August 21, 1937, is not expiring before the year 1942, so that prolongation of the pact is not necessary at the present moment.

The spokesman, moreover, emphasised that "Soviet propaganda is still officially forbidden in China."

JAPANESE ORIGIN

He also denied that Soviet Russian volunteers trained in Outer Mongolia had been enlisted in the 8th Chinese Army.

He expressed suspicion that the "Times" report containing these allegations was based on information from Japanese quarters, which and anxious to spread reports that might irritate European friends of China.—Trans-Ocean.

Is Your Leave Overdue?

Circumstances sometimes compel a postponement of home leave and should this happen to you the state of your health should be your first concern, for with good health you can carry on long after you are due for a change of climate.

The first essential of good health is good blood, for all the nerves and tissues of the body derive their nourishment from the blood. Unfortunately, the eastern climate makes considerable demands upon the blood stream, and it is therefore advisable periodically to rehabilitate the blood by means of a tonic, of which there is none to surpass Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, devised by an eminent British physician.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually create new rich red blood, and have proved a reliable and highly effective remedy for ailments arising from a depleted blood stream such as indigestion, insomnia, neurasthenia, rheumatism, nervous debility, and the aches and pains peculiar to women. Start building up your health to-day with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills; you will be pleased to find how soon you feel better. They are equally good for men and women. Obtainable from chemists everywhere.

CZECH TROOP MOVEMENTS DUE TO DEMOBILISATION

Berlin, To-day.

Authoritative quarters here declared yesterday that the Czecho-Slovakian Government pointed out to the German Minister in Prague, Dr. von Eisenlohr, that new extensive troop movements which are now going on in the Sudeten German region are due to certain "demobilisation measures."

The Czech Government declared that a large number will be withdrawn from the Sudeten German region.

New troop movements which were necessitated by withdrawal of a large number of troops from the Sudeten German region should, therefore, decrease rather than increase existing tension in the Sudeten German region, is in the view of the Czecho-Slovakian Government.

An official German statement on the new developments is not expected for the time being.

German official quarters, so it is declared, will before making any statement, wait for confirmation of information given by the Czech Government, "that present troop movements are a withdrawal." —Trans-Ocean.

Hlinka, leader of the Slovak Autonomist, renewed his demand that Slovakia must be granted complete autonomy, is stressed by the papers, who, moreover, point out that the American Slovaks assured Father Hlinka that he may rely on their full support.—Trans-Ocean.

TEXT OF SLOVAKIAN RESOLUTION

Pressburg, To-day.

Text of a motion demanding autonomy for Slovakia, which has been drafted by the Slovak autonomists, was read by Father Hlinka at the party congress here yesterday.

Motion demands that the Slovak language be given the status of an official language and that a Slovak Diet, with legislative powers, be created.

The motion also demands that the Czechoslovakian army be reorganised after the pattern of the Belgian army so that, for instance, in Slovakia, only Slovak units with Slovak officers, be stationed.

The Slovak Parliament, so the motion demands, should be competent for legislation in all matters which are merely of Slovak concern.

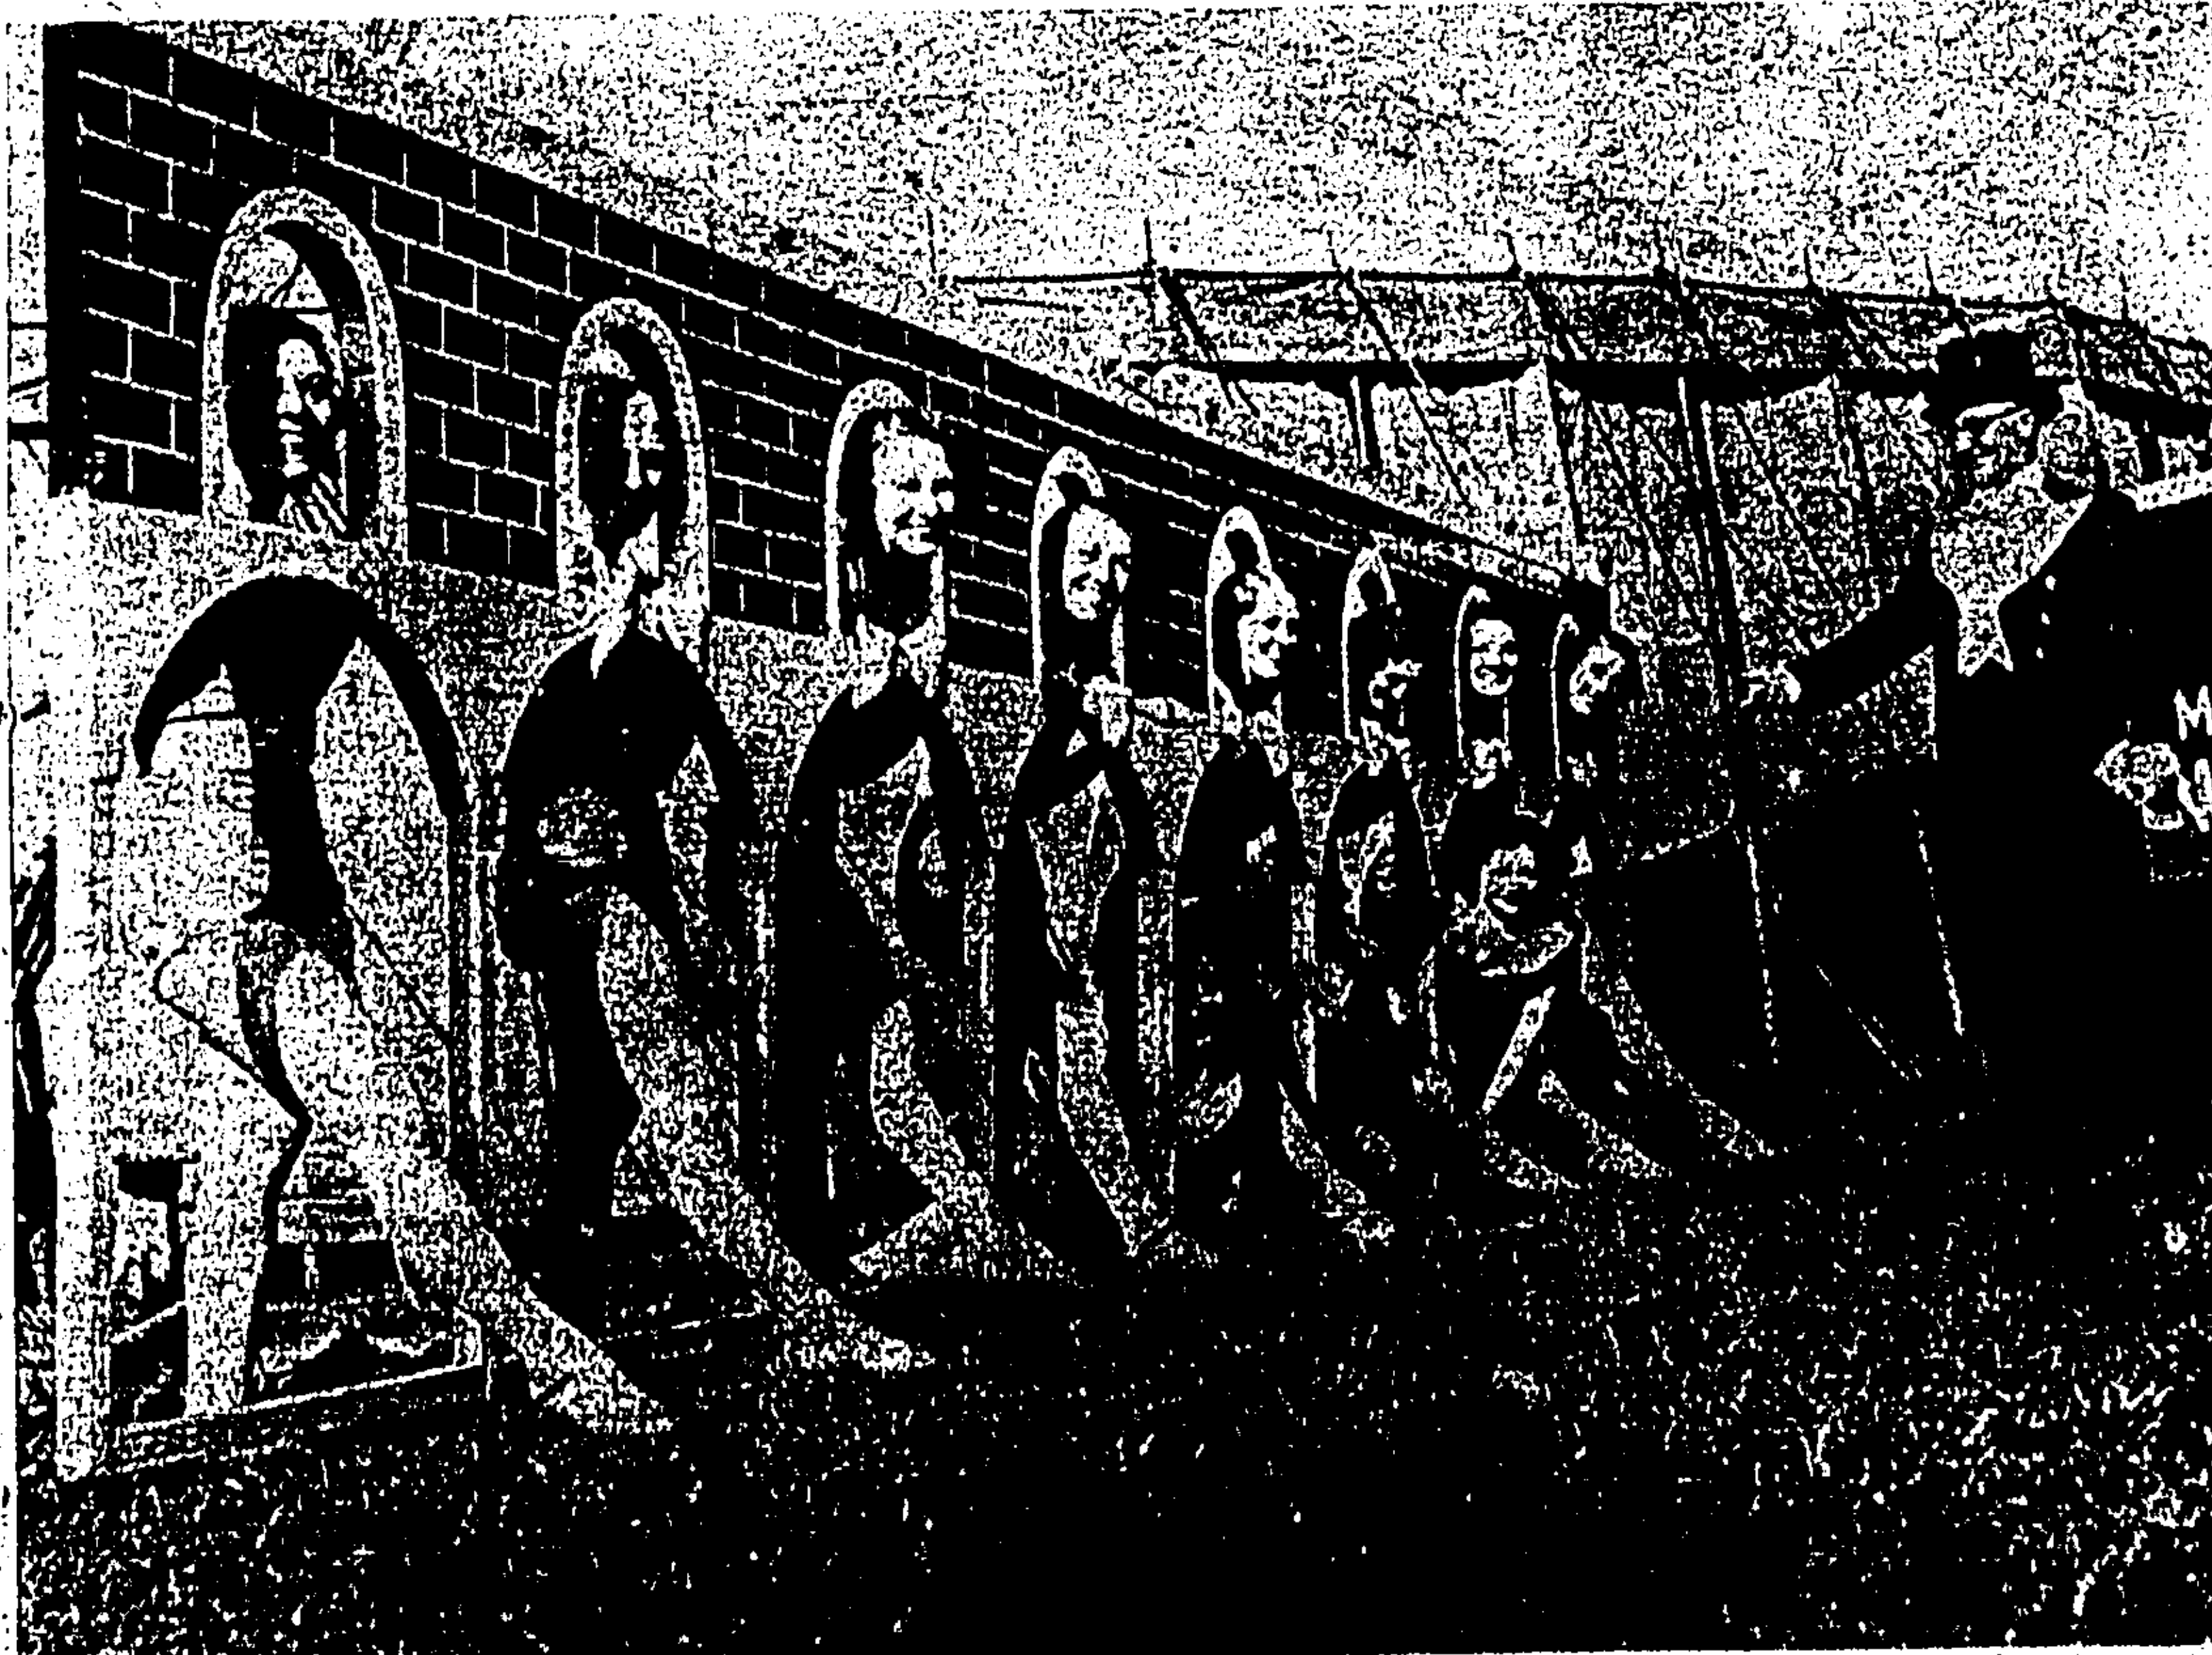

Legislation regarding matters concerning the entire nation should be left to the Prague Parliament, however.—Trans-Ocean.

ITALY CALLS IN THE LAW

In the Peace Palace at The Hague, an interesting case is engaging the attention of the robed judges on the bench of the Permanent Court of International Justice. What is most surprising is not that both the parties are Great Powers — that has frequently happened in the history of the World Court — but that the action has been brought by Italy. Signor Mussolini has often declared that force is the final arbiter in dispute between nations, he has put this gospel into practice by tearing up international treaties and by laying waste Abyssinia with his bombs and poison gas. Now he is appealing to the Law which he has so recently scorned and despised.

What is the meaning of this change of front? Some might regard it as a hopeful sign of conversion, an indication that with the Anglo-Italian agreement Signor Mussolini is honestly desirous of turning over a new leaf. The weak point in that argument is that the Duce shows no intention of renouncing his recent gains by violence.

Perhaps the explanation is that the other party in the dispute is France. They are quarrelling over an extremely important matter — the exploitation of the deposits of phosphates in Morocco, which would certainly be as useful to Italy as the alleged mineral wealth of Abyssinia. But the Italian Dictator, for all his talk about the beauty of machine guns and rifles, knows better than to precipitate a conflict with France.

"Our art," declared Dr. Goebbels at Easter, "is to pull out the biggest prizes with the least risk." The Duce's philosophy is not so far different. He invaded Abyssinia because, from the military point of view, it was a weak, defenceless country. He would not have done so if Abyssinia could have defended itself effectively. He would not have done so if it had been certain in advance that the other members of the League of Nations would rally to the defence of Abyssinia. The latter, we are sometimes told, would have meant war. It would not, if the frank revelations in Marshal De Bono's book on the Abyssinian campaign are to be believed. Mussolini would have abandoned Abyssinia and concentrated upon the Italian colony of Eritrea.

By feeding the fears of others with threats, aggressors have got away with a good deal. They would get away with less if the peace-loving nations realised a simple truth. An aggressor will run risks if he feels that he has a twenty to one chance of winning. He will think twice, and probably try to get satisfaction by peaceful means, if the odds are even. And, for that reason among others, collective security could be made a practicable proposition.

The Pools And The Post Office

A sidelight is thrown upon the effect of the football pools on the Post Office by a memorandum recently presented to the Director Personnel by the Post Office Controlling Officers' Association. In asking for special recognition of the responsibilities cast upon the Chief Postal Superintendent at Liverpool, which is the largest centre of pool operations in the country, this memorandum furnishes figures which show the enormous turnover of postal business that has grown out of this particular form of organised gambling.

An additional superintendent has recently been added to the establishment and he is (says the memorandum) "fully occupied in controlling the competition section, which in size and importance is now equal to and, from an output point of view, greater than the main sorting office. But the Chief Superintendent (for whom a special allowance is claimed, is expected by the general managers of the "pools" firms, so we are told, to deal personally with the more serious matters connected with the competition work. And those matters are numerous.

The present system of dealing with the postings of the "pools" correspondence was fostered and in a large measure designed by this officer, who personally discussed the matter with the proprietors and evolved a scheme which was original and has "worked perfectly since the start." The financial benefit to the Post Office must be very considerable.

A Colossal Turnover

The volume of work is colossal and continues rapidly to increase. The average weekly competition postings during the present football season exceeded eight millions, an increase of 33 per cent. over 1936. More than 27,000 bags weighing over 240 tons are dispatched weekly. "These include more than 10,000 bags in 636 divisions dispatched from a 'pool' firm's premises to no fewer than 536 offices."

On an average 246,600 postal orders of a mean value of £141,612 were issued to pool promoters every week, and the average amount of paid orders was over £500,000. The average weekly motor mileage due to pool traffic was 3,670. To meet the competition work 73 indoor and 97 outdoor appointments have been added to the staff, and extra duty (indoor and outdoor) amounted to 22,000 hours.

GUERILLAS ROUND NANKING

Japanese Burning Homes Of Farmers

Terror By Night In Old Capital

Though still far from desirable, general conditions in Nanking have greatly improved, and comparative quiet reigns over the former capital. Everywhere ruins and charred skeletons of buildings stand as grim reminders of more turbulent days.

In the immediate vicinity of the city, conditions are also more settled, but north of the river, less than 50 miles away from Nanking, well-organised guerilla units are increasingly active, according to well-informed foreigners.

These units bear no semblance to the pseudo-guerilla bandits, who are at present roaming over Japanese-occupied territory. They are trained, well-organised men who harass small groups of Japanese soldiers, drive them away from villages, and then retreat unobtrusively upon the arrival of reinforcements.

With the return of Japanese to these cities, it is stated, the retaliatory tactics are always the same. Farmers are suspected of having called the guerillas, and as a result their huts are burned, and they themselves, as often as not shot.

BELIEVE RECAPTURE DUE

Within the battered walls of Nanking, however, some 350,000 Chinese are living patiently — confident that any day now the Central Government may recapture the former capital.

They do not waste their time regretting the passing of the good old days or feeling sorry for themselves, but work day and night in building up some petty trade which will earn them half a living. Where the other half comes from remains a deep mystery to foreigners in Nanking, although it is suspected that generally the resources of the Chinese are underestimated, and that there is much hidden away.

Returning to Nanking at the average of 300 a day, Chinese immediately go to work in rigging up a skeleton house with some sort of matting overhead as a protection against rain. Piece by piece they mysteriously find shaky furniture — then build themselves a stove from a gasoline can or clay. They keep on improving it daily with the industry and patience of ants, and within a month, have livable quarters. Comforts, of course, are out of the question.

IMMUNE TO BULLETS ! !

They all believe sincerely in the guerilla units known variously as red flags, yellow flags, long spears, big swords, etc. The belief prevalent during the Boxer Uprising with regard to the immunity of these bands from bullets is returning. Though absurd, this belief, foreigners in Nanking feel, is symbolical of a new morale. The people want to believe in the strength of the Central Government, and even grasp at every story.

There is no commerce worth mention on the part of the Chinese. Small shops have been opened, but do no business. Along the western side of the city, for three miles, sketch stalls along both sides of the streets. It is strongly suspected that the greater majority of the odds and ends in which they deal are found or snatched — but there are no complaints and consequently no proof.

Stores along Chungshan Road, Nanking's main street, are all taken up by Japanese traders who cater exclusively to the army and Japanese civilians. There is no system — if a Japanese merchant finds a store with sufficient roof to keep out the rain, he moves in and sets up his business. Some deal with the hundreds of Chinese peddlers, who merge and buy candy and sugar, selling them at a profit of a few coppers a day.

FOOD PLENTIFUL

Food has suddenly become plentiful and cheap. Eggs are available in plenty, selling from 40 to 50 to $1, cheaper than they were even on the local market. The surrounding country is yielding vegetables, poultry and even cattle are beginning to make their appearance within the city. Pigs have for some time been abundant.

But the people of Nanking have no protection. The "haves," and there are few of them worthy of this term, are living in a constant state of fear that they will be the next to be attacked by bands of organised gangsters preying upon the long-suffering community.

Police of the "Reformed Government" carry no side-arms. They are not even trusted with batons — and there are no night patrols.

TORTURE ALLEGED

Operating mostly in the southern district, these gangsters act nightly. Some of them are armed, and they have succeeded in establishing a reign of terror among the poverty-stricken people. Some of their victims, later transported to the one hospital, the Nanking University Hospital, have given horrible accounts. They have been tortured, burned with candles, etc. when these gangsters thought that something was being hidden from them. This reign of terror is so real that many are seriously thinking of leaving the city for this very reason.

The robbers are all dressed in Chinese garb, but there is reason to believe that among them are not a few unscrupulous ronin who so closely follow on the heels of Japanese occupation.

Foreigners, most of whom live either in the hospital or the Nanking University, are untouched. However, their

Franco Rejects "Invitation" To An Armistice

Burgos, To-day.

General Franco refuses to make an armistice and declares again that the war can be terminated only by unconditional surrender of the Government, according to an official statement.

The Insurgent Spanish Council of Ministers under the presidency of Gen. Franco, devoted particular attention on Saturday to discussion of the international situation, a report on which states: "With regard to rumours about new machinations of the Barcelona Committee and its members to bring about an armistice in the Spanish civil war, the Nationalist Government repeats that to terminate the war, it will accept no solution other than unconditional surrender of the enemy."

"Any campaign or intervention contrary to this principle is regarded as a contribution to efforts to ruin Spain."

"Sole aim must be the triumph of our cause."

"This declaration is no more than the wish of a nation which is heroically defending its historical existence and the principles of civilisation."

The Council of Ministers unanimously approved measures to prevent increases in prices of commodities in insurgent territory, and decreed that prices must remain the same as before the civil war began.

In addition, a law was passed which provides for construction of restaurants for workers.—Trans-Ocean.

threatened from the flank by the advancing insurgents. The authorities are already taking measures to prepare evacuation of the city. Thus the official archives are being moved to Alicante and Cartagena.

Particularly the latter city is considered by the authorities as relatively secure since some units of the Spanish navy are stationed at the port of Cartagena.

VALENCIA CROWDED

The population of Valencia is said to have increased to about one million by the influx of many thousand fugitives from Madrid.

The resulting overcrowded condition of the city has already led to a serious shortage of provisions, although the Valencia region is one of the most fertile farming districts of Spain.—Trans-Ocean.

LOYALISTS HARD PRESSED

Paris, To-day.

Reports received here yesterday from French war correspondents on the Spanish Government front declare that the steady advance of the insurgent troops in the mountainous region between Teruel and the Mediterranean coast, is giving serious anxiety to the Government military authorities.

The loyalists are said to have virtually abandoned hope that they will succeed in holding Castellon de la Plana, since that city is now

VOLUNTEERS TROUNCE PORTUGUESE

Recreio Crack Up In 4th Inning

(By "UBIQUE")

Fielding their strongest nine the Volunteers registered their biggest win of the local Baseball season yesterday when they trounced Recreio to the tune of 17 runs to 9, after being led at the end of the third inning by 6 runs to 2.

The Volunteers started off very shakily and made several errors in the early stages of the game, Wing Lee allowing two men home on a bad throw while D. Leonard was not very safe with grounders, but in the latter stages of the game, they played a much improved game.

The Volunteers were in great hitting form. Every player registered a hit, but Bowen was outstanding. Unlike on previous occasions the Volunteers rarely lifted the ball for a fly, and were content with hard fast grounders.

Recreio played as well as expected. They were guilty of several errors in the third inning which their opponents took full advantage of, but there was little to blame the fielders for as the runs scored were due through hits.

Both sides scored two runs in the first inning, and Recreio took the lead in the third, when they notched four more runs. Loose fielding and two good hits enabled the Volunteers to score seven runs in the next (fourth) inning. From that stage the Volunteers never looked behind and added eight runs in the remaining inning, while Recreio only added three.

The Chinese had a runaway victory against the Indians and won by 21 runs to 1. The Chinese scored 17 runs in the first two innings, and took things easily after that. M. A. Arculli scored the only run for the Indians.

RED CROSS APPEAL TO GENEVA

Canton, Yesterday.

In a telegraphic message to the International Red Cross at Geneva, the Canton Red Cross has urged the international organisation to devise means to stop the Japanese wanton killing of mercy workers.

Giving details of the number of workers machine-gunned by the Japanese airmen during the raid, the message points out that these constitute a clear violation of international agreement which guarantees the safety of rescue parties in time of war.

When the Red Cross workers were giving aid to victimised people, the message recalls, Japanese planes swooped down from their height and first strafed the party with machine-gun fire and later bombed them.

As a result, a large number were killed and wounded, including several leaders.

The message asks that the details be communicated to all Red Cross Societies affiliated with the Geneva International so that concerted action may be taken to stop recurrence of such outrages. — Central News.

movements are more restricted, and they are not permitted the freedom of movement in and out of the city walls accorded to the average Chinese. They are never sure of getting out to the golf links, the parks, or the entrance to the port, and to be certain must be accompanied by a member of the Japanese Military Police or in possession of a pass from this body. Generally, foreigners are remotely suspected of being agents of the Central Government, although there are no grounds upon which to base such an allegation.

FOREIGNERS NOT BOTHERED

In general, foreigners are let alone by the military, although once in a while one or another arrival gets a call and is asked to explain the nature of his business. In all cases, the queries have been satisfied.

There are at present approximately 30,000 destitute refugees being cared for. Malnutrition undoubtedly exists, but there are no manifestations of epidemics. Foreigners have been asked several times to abandon relief work by the Japanese, but they are still carrying on, though they have changed their methods several times since January.

It is reported that the aim behind this request is that the Japanese are attempting to win the goodwill of the Chinese through relief methods. So far they have not succeeded, and remain complete strangers to the Chinese. The chief fault in their methods is their impatience. If frustrated slightly, they do not attempt to take the setback and win over the populace, but smash up immediately all resistance by force. Those resisting have been in some cases shot, in others maltreated or severely threatened.

VACCINATION RUMORS

Proof of the general fear of the people in dealing with the Japanese is

TELEPHONE ERROR ABOUT A DRUG KILLED PEERESS

"This lady lost her life through a mistake in a telephone message between a doctor and a nurse," said Mr. Ingleby Oddie, the coroner, recording a misadventure verdict on Lady Rankeillour, aged 65, who died at her home in Thurloe-square, Kensington, from the effects of an injection of paraldehyde.

Evidence of identification was given by the Hon. Henry John Hope, a barrister, of Inverness-terrace, W., a son of Lady Rankeillour. He said his mother had not been well since last November.

Nurse Rosemary Taylor, of Ossington-street, Kensington, who was very distressed, said she had been nursing Lady Rankeillour since November.

The patient was suffering from shingles, and her doctor advised her to have her teeth out, which she did.

Dr. Groves had been attending her about once a week. Lady Rankeillour went away in Holy Week and came back from her cottage near Uckfield on April 20.

Not Surprised At Amount

Asked by the coroner why she rang up Dr. Groves on April 20, Nurse Taylor said that she had given Lady Rankeillour extra sleeping tablets and did not like doing it without consulting the doctor.

She told the doctor Lady Rankeillour did not seem able to sleep.

She asked his advice and mentioned paraldehyde, which Dr. Groves had spoken about some time before, and asked how she should give it.

She had not given it to a patient for 16 years and did not know the dose. The doctor said she should give 60z., in 80z. of paraffin. Lady Rankeillour had not had this before.

The Coroner.—Weren't you surprised at the amount?—No.

seen in the way the Japanese compulsory anti-cholera and anti-typhoid vaccination order was met. Rumors began to spread that women were inoculated in the breast, thus becoming sterile, and that instead of making a single scratch, Japanese physicians made 12 on the arm. Though not based on fact, these reports, which spread swiftly, are indicative of the mistrust of the people for the Japanese.

It also resulted in the foreign-operated Nanking University Hospital running out of serum as the populace flocked there for vaccination in preference.

Japanese businessmen, observers, and goodwill missions are forever trying to better relations. More than 95 per cent. of these men, however, have come with an idee fixe, and coupled with their preconceived notions of what the situation should be like are the conducted tours upon which they are led. They are at an utter loss to comprehend, and are consequently powerless to help.

SOME JAPANESE RECALLED

There have been several men, foreigners report, who arrived in Nanking sincerely wishing to understand the situation. They spurned conducted tours and investigated for themselves. They learned to sympathize with the Chinese—and were greatly disappointed by the state of affairs prevailing. Such men were recalled.

Reports of rape are recurrent, but are not frequent enough to warrant panic. The Japanese do their utmost to discredit such stories, and Chinese who make the reports must be careful and 100 per cent certain that they can give concrete proof. They are intimidated, and those who are successfully frightened and attempt to back out are branded as instigators and accused of attempting to undermine the reputation of the military. One man who withdrew his charge was shot. Two others, however, both women, displayed amazing courage when facing the Japanese. Both stood their ground, repeating their accusations, and escaped all harm. It is not, known definitely, but a foreigner stated that he understood that the assailants of one woman were identified and punished.

TRAINS FULL BOTH WAYS

Though 300 are estimated to be pouring into Nanking daily, as many are leaving the city, with the result that the population remains more or less stable. Trains from Nanking to Shanghai and vice-versa are full of refugees, who seem not to know whether they are coming or going.

Between Shanghai and Nanking, foreigners report an amazing quantity of grain which has been cut. The quality of the crop, mostly wheat and some barley, is not high, but a crop it is.

Farmers are already transplanting rice. There are more men and animals in the country between the two cities than is imagined. All are working industriously, and there seems to be no threat of a good shortage as feared at one time.

(By AIR MAIL)

London, May 28.

A deputation from the British Boxing Board of Control was received yesterday by the Glasgow Magistrates Committee, following upon allegations regarding boxing promotions made at a recent meeting of the Magistrates. Questions regarding a fair wage clause and Trade Union conditions of labour were put to the Board.

The deputation consisted of Sir Iain Colquhoun, Bt. of Luss, vice-president of the Scottish Council; Mr. William Walker, chairman of the Scottish Council; Mr. W. G. Millar, secretary, and two members, Johnny M'Millan and Jake Kilrain.

Sir Iain asked the Magistrates if they had some standing principle against the promotion of boxing matches. Replying, Mrs. Jean Mann, the Senior Magistrate, said that speaking generally they were willing to grant licences provided that they were assured that certain conditions were being carried out.

As an example, she pointed to the fact that the regulations issued by the British Boxing Board of Control made the condition regarding money placed on bond with a bank prior to a match permissible only, and she asked Sir Iain if the Board would be agreeable to make this compulsory.

Sir Iain expressed the opinion that the Board would be quite willing to agree to that proposal.

"FAIR WAGES CLAUSE"

Bailie Elgar then asked if the Board of Control looked unfavourably upon the Boxers' Association, pointing out that as members of the Corporation it would be their duty to see that the Standing Orders of the Corporation were observed in respect of contracts. These conditions included a fair wages clause and Trade Union conditions of labour.

In his opinion, replied Sir Iain, the B.B.C. in itself was capable of getting the best possible terms for all concerned, and indeed, was functioning in that direction.

The Senior Magistrate again asked Sir Iain to assure the Magistrates of the Board's willingness to co-operate in making compulsory the question of placing money on bond before contests, and to this Sir Iain consented.

After the meeting, Bailie Mrs. Mann said that the discussion was likely to clear up a great many of the differences between the Magistrates and certain boxing promotions.

BOXING ASSN'S. MOVE

Following upon the meeting of the Glasgow magistrates with a deputation from the British Boxing Board of Control yesterday, it was intimated last night that the Scottish Branch of the National Boxing Association is addressing a letter to the Board of Control on the principal question raised at the magistrates meeting.

Mr. T. Hamilton, legal adviser to the National Boxing Association, stated in an interview that the letter asked that immediate effect would be given to the proposal approved by Sir Iain Colquhoun, making compulsory a deposit of a bond sufficient to cover the boxers' remuneration before the licence would be granted.

Further, the letter asks if such a bond will be demanded of Mr. George Dingley in respect of his forthcoming promotion at Paisley when the Lynch-Jurich fight will be the main feature.

"REVIEWER'S" SPORTS COMMENTARY

Boxers' Union Threat To The Board

BRITISH boxing is threatened with one of the most serious upheavals in its stormy history as the result of the activities of the Boxers' Union, now known as the National Boxing Association. The latest of these activities has led to the hold-up of the world's fly-weight championship fight in Glasgow between Benny Lynch and the American challenger, Jacky Jurich.

Representations made to the Glasgow magistrates had the effect of the holding back of a licence for the tournament until the promoter recognised the N.B.A. and complied with that body's demands.

The Board has already taken action in this matter, for one of its stewards, Sir Iain Colquhoun, asked the magistrates to receive a deputation from the Board of Control. (See main story on this page).

The hold-up is an outcrop of the general activity of the union body and, whatever happens over the Lynch fight, the Board have still to tackle the main problem. The N.B.A. now claim to have over 1,400 members, the majority being active boxers, including most of the present British champions, and their threat to the authority of the Board is becoming serious.

The threat, in brief, is to oust the Board and to run boxing on trade union principles, the N.B.A. being affiliated to the Trades Union Congress.

The first point of friction concerned a strike clause—one usual among trade unions—in the Union's rules. The Union (as they were then described) sought co-operation with the Board over grievances of minor boxers, and while the Board were very willing to deal with representatives of any body of men in boxing, they could not, of course, have any form of agreement with the Union until the strike clause, in particular, was removed.

"In fact," it was pointed out, "we might have found ourselves forced by agreement to side with the Union against another of our own members."

The Board has seven branches. Some of these branch councils consist entirely of men not financially interested. The others have representatives of all concerned in boxing, including boxers. Every boxer has the right to appeal to the Stewards of Appeal who include Mr. Roland Oliver, K.C., Sir Walter Monckton, K.C., Sir William Bass (senior steward of the Jockey Club), Lord Londonderry, and others of similar repute and high standing in law and sport.

It was admitted that the Board had formulated no settled plan, as yet, to deal with an extremely difficult problem.

"We have taken no step whatever to stop the association, and if this body sticks to legitimate functions, we have no intention of attacking them. But we shall continue to insist that every boxer shall hold our licence and remain under our control; and, of course, in every instance where our authority is evaded or our members are attacked, we shall act with all the power we have. We are still hoping that we shall not be forced into anything like open warfare."

As far as is known there has never been a boxers' strike in Great Britain, except as concerned one particular tournament. But with the National Boxing Association in its present combative mood, the possibility is there to-day.

One need hardly point to the utility of boxers trying to run boxing. This sport needs every bit as much discipline as racing, and a good deal more than football and most other sports.

We have curiously enough at the moment a tendency, rather far stretched, among the popular critics to lay stress upon signs of deterioration in University standards of sport. Myself I have failed to see this. On the contrary, I see as good a standard as ever, if not a better, and I see what even in these cynical days counts for much more, a very fine spirit.—C. B. Fry.

Great Britain's Walker Cup Triumph

FIRST WIN OVER U. S. SINCE INCEPTION OF EVENT

Great Britain won the biennial Walker Cup Golf classic for the first time since the inception of the Competition, when the United States were defeated by 7½ matches to 4½, at St. Andrew's, the winners establishing a clear cut superiority in the singles, which took place last Saturday, following the foursomes, which were held on Friday, and in which Gt. Britain secured a lead of 1 match.

Saturday's play was very interesting as Ward levelled the score when he beat J. J. F. Pen-nink, the British Native Champion, by 12 up and 11 to play! But Hector Thomson, former British Amateur Champion, gave Britain the lead once again when he beat Johnny Goodman 6 up and 4 to play.

CRACKED UP

Leonard Crawley, leading Fischer 4 up at the half-way stage, cracked up badly in his second 18 holes and was terribly erratic, often finding himself bunkered. Fischer was putting gloriously and was holing out from all over the green and thoroughly deserved his victory.

Before Alexander Kyle (G.B.) and M. H. Haas (U.S.) had concluded their match, the score stood at 5½ to 4½ in Great Britain's favour, and Kyle's win placed the issue beyond doubt.

Complete results were:—

FOURSOMES (HELD ON FRIDAY)

The following were the final scores in the foursomes:—

Gordon Peters and Hector Thomson (Great Britain) beat J. G. Goodman and M. H. Ward (U.S.) 4 up and 2 to play.

Charles Yates and Ray Billows (U.S.) beat Alexander Kyle and Charles Stowe (G.B.) 3 up and 2 to play.

Leonard G. Crawley and J. J. F. Pen-nink (G.B.) beat Reynolds Smith and F. T. Haas (U.S.) 2 up and 1 to play.

J. W. Fischer and C. Kocsis (U.S.) halved with H. G. Bentley and James Bruen (G.B.).

Result:—

Great Britain 2½
United States 1½

SINGLES (HELD ON SATURDAY)

The following were the results in the Singles:—

M. H. Ward (U.S.) beat J. J. F. Pen-nink 12 and 11.

H. Thomson (G.B.) beat J. G. Goodman 6 and 4.

Charles Yates (U.S.) beat James Bruen 2 and 1.

J. W. Fischer (U.S.) beat Leonard Crawley 3 and 2.

Gordon Peters (G.B.) beat Reynolds Smith 9 and 8.

Charles Stowe (G.B.) beat Charles Kocsis 2 and 1.

A. Kyle (G.B.) beat M. H. Haas 5 and 4.

OPEN LAWN TENNIS TOURNAMENTS

India's Disappointment

Madras, April 18.
The Yuvaraja of Pithapuram, president of the All-India Lawn Tennis Association, criticises the decision of the International Lawn Tennis Federation rejecting the proposal supported by India for tournaments open to amateurs and professionals.

He complains that Britain and France dominate the federation and says that a referendum of players and the public would favour open tournaments.

He adds: "Who would not like to see J. D. Budge playing H. E. Vines or G. Cramm playing H. Cochet? Open championships certainly would raise the standard of the game. India will continue to table the proposal every year until it succeeds."

Rev. A. Patterson won the St. George's Hill's Veterans' golf Competition with a score of 4 up.

FOORD SUSPENDED AND FINED

Sequel To Fight With Neusel In Germany

Ben Foord, the South African heavy-weight, has been suspended by the German Boxing Federation for a period ending on May 10, and has been fined one-quarter of his purse following his disqualification in his fight with Walter Neusel at Hamburg on April 16.

This decision was announced to-day by Dr. Metzner, president of the Federation.

Half of Foord's purse was paid over on the day of the fight, but the rest was withheld pending the Federation's decision. After the deduction of the fine the balance will be paid to Foord.

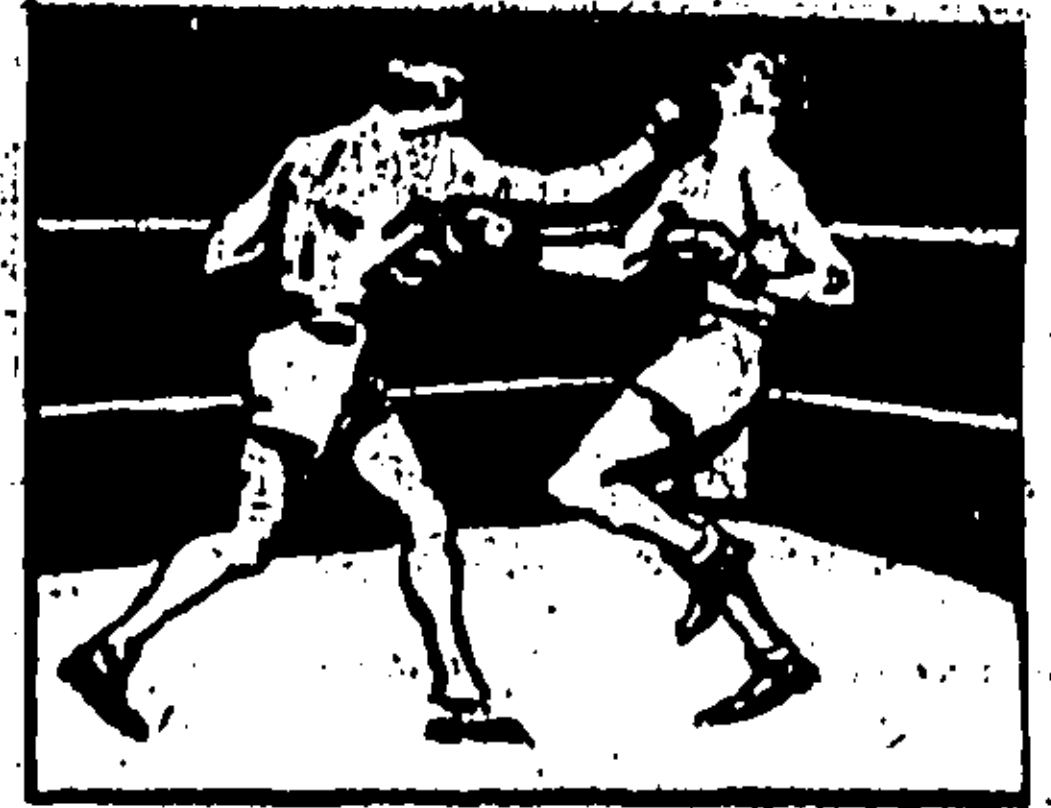

FOORD NOT TO APPEAL

Mr. Lou Walsh, manager of Foord, states that he is not appealing against the decision.

"I am surprised at the Federation's decision," Mr. Walsh said, "because I understood that Foord would have to pay only a fine, and I left 1,000 marks in Hamburg for this purpose."

"Foord was to have fought Neusel in Germany in June for his expenses only, but this fight is now off."

Promotion & Relegation Proposal

ONE of the most important suggestions which came before the annual meeting of the English Football League in London on May 30 was that payment to referees and linesmen for Third Division matches should be increased.

Derby County, who for many years past have been trying to get clubs to agree to their "four up and four down" idea, made yet another effort to alter the system of promotion and relegation.

In 1936 the proposal was almost carried, but last year three votes were lost. On this occasion the voting was secret, for the Management Committee have tabled a proposal that "in all questions involving principles at general meetings of the League voting shall be by ballot."

Special attention was drawn by the Management Committee to the regulation concerning the retention of players at the end of the season. The League regulation states that clubs shall forward their retained and transfer lists on or before the closing day of the season, but efforts are being made to bring forward the date to April 17. In the event of the club failing to intimate as above the player shall be deemed to have a free transfer.

This alteration will mean that clubs wishing to sign players not retained by others will have a chance to see them in matches before the season ends.

The accounts of the Football League show a profit of just over £16.

Louis-Schmeling Film Rights; Record Bid

ALL records for motion picture rights for a boxing match have been broken by a bid of 100,000 dollars (£20,000) made for rights of the heavyweight title fight between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling, which takes place in New York, on June 22.

First Speedway Meeting For Seven Years

After a lapse of seven years—the last meeting was held in June 1931—speedway racing will again take place at the Marine Garden Speedway, Edinburgh, this season.

The track re-opened on May 17, and after several weeks' intensive practice it is to be hoped that the Scottish riders will be able to extend the team of visitors, among whom is a strong Canadian contingent, headed by George Pepper, Elwood Stilwell, Kid Curtis, Bob Sparks, and Bruce Venier.

Drew McQueen will again lead the Scottish challenge, and he is supported by such promising riders as Stanley Gargan, Bill Nisbet, Clune Johnstone, Dick Denny, and others.

(By the Four Aces)

David Burnstine, Michael Gottlieb, Oswald Jacoby, Howard Schenken
... World's leading Team-of-Four, Inventors of the system that has beaten every other system in existence.

THE ORIGIN OF THE FOUR ACES SYSTEM

Contract Bridge is the infant prodigy among card games, and in the seven years of its existence has swept all others aside. As the game increased in popularity, it was natural for books describing various bidding systems to appear.

Usually these books were written by players who had made a reputation at Whist or Auction Bridge, and the extravagant claims to being the best Contract players, put forth by many of these authorities, had little or no foundation. Furthermore, in the rush to get systems into print, little or no time was given to testing the bidding method advocated, and, in fact, it was rare indeed that an authority would follow his own system. The book merely gave somebody's idea of how he thought somebody else should play Bridge.

In the summer of 1933 we decided that our experience in playing Contract for five years against the stiffest opposition we could find gave us sufficient experience, and that our bidding was sufficiently formulated so that there would be no need for any future changes. Therefore, we organized the Four Aces Bridge team, announced the Four Aces System, and issued a challenge to the proponents of any other system. Failing to receive any acceptance, we entered various major Bridge tournaments, and in a period of two years succeeded in winning eleven out of thirteen events. It is worthy of note that in one of the two events we lost, the victors employed our system; in the other, they employed a system of their own quite similar to ours.

Some months ago, annoyed by the fact that certain proponents of other systems continued their groundless claims of superiority, we renewed our challenge and, as a further evidence of our desire to play such a test match, we posted our certified check for $10,000 to serve either as a wager or forfeit, but we are still without acceptance. Our system is simple. We realize that bidding complication lead to guesses and that no one can guess right all the time.

Our system is flexible. While best results of course are obtained when both partners follow the Four Aces System, any player who learns our principles of bidding can greatly improve his game even though his partner is following the antiquated methods recommended by others.

In our next few articles, we intend to touch the high spots of the Four Aces System, and show its many advantages. Its basic and original features include:

1. The Four Aces Valuation Table—the simplest and most accurate valuation basis ever devised.
2. The Principle of Anticipation.
3. The Principle of Risk versus Gain, applied to defensive bidding.
4. The Limiting Theory of no-trump bids.
5. The Rule of the Ace and the King in Slam bidding.
6. The Opening Bid the same in any position, irrespective of vulnerability.
7. The Tactical and Positional bids.
8. The Exploratory Response—two of a lower ranking suit.
9. All Jump Bids by Responding Hand forcing to game.
10. The Jump Two-Over-One Response—forcing to a Slam.
11. The Double of an Opening one no-trump for business—not for a take-out.
12. The Slam Invitational Game Force.

What's On At the Cinemas

AT THE STAR—"Every Day's A Holiday", with Mae West, Edmund Lowe, Charles Butterworth, Herman Bing and Lloyd Nolan. The latest of Mae West's pictures, a glorious, roaring and rollicking musical romance with the end of the last century, the time.

AT THE MAJESTIC—"You Can't Have Everything"—The show that's bigger, better, faster, funnier than any of its record-breaking predecessors. Starring Alice Faye, Don Ameche, Ritz Bros., Louise Hovick, Charles Winninger, Tony Martin, Rubino and his violin, Tip, Tap and Toe, Louis Prima, the trumpet king and his band.

AT THE ORIENTAL—"Come And Get It", with Edward Arnold, Joel McCrea and Frances Farmer. A picture rich with all the excitement and lust for life in the great lumber camps.

AT THE QUEEN'S AND ALHAMBRA—"Her Jungle Love", with Dorothy Lamour and Ray Milland. The most amazing love adventure ever told. Photographed in technicolour with the Malayan jungle as the background of the story.

AT THE KING'S—"Nothing Sacred"—The first complete colour film of New York and combines all the pictorial values of colour plus a great story and brings to the screen a new romantic team in Carole Lombard and Fredric March. Walter Connolly, Charles Winninger and Maxie Roisenbloom are seen in important featured roles.

HOW CLEAN ARE your false teeth?THIS TEST
WILL TELL

1. Give your dentures your customary "cleaning" treatment, and then examine them carefully.
2. Now put some 'Steradent' at your chemist. Pour a little of it into a tumblerful of warm water and stir well. Insert your dentures and leave them while you dress or overnight.
3. When you take them out you'll find 'Steradent' has made an amazing difference—your dental plates will be clean and fresh. This simple test has convinced thousands. It will convince you. It is guaranteed to do so, or the cost of 'Steradent' will be immediately refunded without question. The Dental Profession has endorsed 'Steradent' as the finest preparation ever produced for cleaning and purifying false teeth. Over 10,000 dentists prescribe it.
No matter how discoloured, stained or old your dental plates are, 'Steradent' is guaranteed to make them clean and fresh, and natural-looking as the day you first got them—and keep them that way. Every stain vanishes like magic; even the blackest tobacco stains of years' standing vanish completely after a few treatments. Mucin, tartar and all insanitary accumulations are also removed. Your plates regain their wholesome, flesh-pink colour. Dull, yellow-tinted teeth are made clean and lustrous. A powerful sterilising agent purifies your plates and leaves a refreshing taste. No brushing. No acids. Absolutely harmless to denture materials.

Agents: IMPERIAL CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES (CHINA) LIMITED, HONGKONG.

INCENDIARY BOMBS IN JAPANESE-OWNED THEATRES IN TIENTSIN

Tientsin, To-day.

The audience attending yesterday afternoon's performance at the Capitol Theatre, situated in the ex-German Concession, was badly frightened when two deafening explosions occurred at short intervals.

The explosions are believed to have been caused by incendiary bombs, as the theatre was immediately set on fire.

The audience hurriedly left the theatre, which was quickly cleared, as there were not many people watching the show.

Apart from one or two who were mauled in the rush to leave it is believed there were no casualties.

LEAFLETS STREWN

During the interval, the floor of the cinema had been found to be strewn with leaflets calling upon Chinese not to patronise the theatre as it was said to be Japanese-owned.

Fire brigades from the British and Japanese Concessions rushed to the scene to cope with the outbreak.

There was a similar occurrence at the Star Theatre, in the French

Concession, which is owned by the same Japanese company. The theatre was slightly damaged.—Reuter.

AMERICAN SUGAR QUOTA

Washington, To-day.

Mr. Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, has announced that sugar quotas will be reduced in accordance with the revised estimate of domestic consumption.

The estimate is 6,780,000 short tons, compared with 6,861,000 short tons in the December estimate.—Reuter.

Shanghai, To-day.

The Japanese spokesman this morning announced that Japanese planes raided Nanyang aerodrome, in Kwangtung, destroying five out of seven machines on the ground.—Reuter.

Shanghai, To-day.

Semi-official Japanese reports claim that the occupation of Keifeng, capital of Honan province, was completed by the Japanese this morning.—Reuter.

Dairen, To-day.

A large fire broke out at the wharves yesterday morning and was not yet under control late last evening.

Many godowns owned by the South Manchuria Railway Company were damaged and quantities of merchandise destroyed.

The wharf brigades were reinforced by fire stations as well as volunteers in fighting the blaze.—Reuter.

Canton, 11.45 a.m., To-day.

The sky was practically black with planes when the Japanese carried out the second raid from 10.30 to 11.10 this morning.

At least 40 to 50 planes took part in the bombing, which was continuous and deafening, drowning out even the roar of the machines as they power-dived towards their objectives.

These included the Pearl River bridge, the old power house on the Bund, the Government offices and the railroad stations.

Bombs again fell on Wong-hon and Taihang Roads, the residential district near Central Park and Sun Yat-sen University.

Observers of previous raids predict further very heavy casualties, and it seems the raiders will not be satisfied until this once-proud city is reduced to a shambles.

Foreigners on Shameen counted the explosions of forty-two high power bombs, after which they lost count, and it is believed that nearly 100 missiles altogether were dropped.

One raider who power dived on the Pearl River bridge flew low over Shameen, and when he came out of his dive the insignia on his wings could plainly be seen.

Everybody is asking "How long will this be allowed to last?" and is wondering if the outside world is sufficiently informed of the terrific sufferings of the helpless civilian population.—Reuter.

Canton, To-day.

Only by reason of the tremendous exodus of people from Canton can the toll of to-day's systematic bombing of the city be less than Saturday's carnage. Even so, a preliminary estimate places the killed and injured at over a thousand.

One 500-lb. bomb dropped in a crowded tenement area and hundreds must have been killed and injured in this spot alone. — Our Own Correspondent.
